UFO  Discover the mysteries of the universe in this multimedia extravaganza of the supernatural – you'll never sleep soundly again!

Tyrian  Ridiculously fast, adrenaline-saturated, shoot-everything-that-moves game from Epic MegaGames.

Tekwar  Based on the series of novels by William Shatner – you have to run around shooting things, yet avoid being shot at yourself.

Entomorph  Following one of the most sumptuous intro sequences ever, this is a top-down, axes and dwarfs adventure with large monsters, combat and puzzle solving.

Witchaven  IntraCorp's second 3D adventure is a swords and sorcery, hack and slash affair. Think you're good at Doom? Let's see if your keyboard prowess can save you when you're armed with only a dagger!

Mortal Kombat 3  Quite possibly the greatest 2D beat-'em-up ever (and now a major Hollywood movie), Mortal Kombat now has a "3" after it. There are more moves, more characters and more gruesome fatalities. Not for the faint-hearted.

MechWarrior 2  Huge leviathan robots battling it out in a blasted wasteland. The best big-robots-fighting-each-other game around.

Worms  A strange and thoroughly violent mix of Lemmings and Battleships. Possibly. Run the game and you can decide.

Capitalism  Programmed by a 22-year-old genius, this corporate strategy game invites you to dabble with stocks, bonds, building construction and much much more. And we thought SimCity was cool.

In the First Degree  Can you prove Murder One? Check out this courtroom drama of epic proportions.

Zoop  "Sameplay is back in a big way" usually means the graphics aren't up to much, but in this case it means just what it says.

Abuse  A fast-paced and frantic shoot-'em-up from someone who works for id Software – yes, the id Software...

Panic in the Park  Part adventure and part logic puzzle, the park in question is an amusement park which someone feels the need to panic in.

MoneyBox  A splendid all-purpose personal finance manager – you've no excuse for being overdrawn now.

3D Pro  A module from the commercial program VR Workshop – a 3D modelling package.

Logical Decisions  A demo of this powerful decision analysis program – experiment with its features.

Calamus for Win 95  A fully featured Windows 95 DTP system.

We report a controlled experiment on the propagation of light in a spin glass with engineered nonlinearities. The experiment probes the nonlinear dynamics of the disordered media by generating highly entangled pulses of light that propagate through the medium. We perform a joint measurement on the spin-glass polarization and the number of photons and find a highly nontrivial distribution of the joint probability of two measurements. We find that the distribution is indistinguishable from a new kind of entangled state in quantum information that we call the photon entangled hollow core states (PH-HCS). This provides an experimental proof of their existence and quantifies their relative entanglement content.The opioid abuse problem is real and serious. It's wrong for people to think that, because pot is legal and hard drugs are illegal, that somehow pot is harmless. It's not. It's important to take steps to reduce the harms that come from opioid use and abuse. But there are also steps we can take to reduce the harms of cannabis. For example, we can limit access to cannabis by allowing drug-screening checkpoints for those driving under the influence of marijuana. We could also limit access to cannabis-infused edibles by requiring them to be sold in separate containers and limiting access to children. And we could continue to allow better access to cannabis for medical purposes. The fact is that the use of marijuana, like the use of hard drugs, has harmful effects. I worry about adults who are using cannabis to get high, and young people who are experimenting with it. There are serious issues of under-age use, abuse and dependence, not to mention the spread of sexually transmitted diseases associated with using marijuana. We have to be serious about the dangers associated with marijuana, especially because, unlike opioids, we know so little about it. There are no good long-term studies on cannabis. There's not a single FDA-approved drug based on cannabis. It's also harder to study than hard drugs, which makes it difficult to figure out
